

This week was dismantled a network of online child abuse, the largest ever. According the Europol has been arrested more than 180 persons suspected of child abuse, and identified over 200 victims

The investigation has not stopped and there are about 670 suspects identified in several countries.

The investigation lasted three years and had as main target of the operation an online forum, hosted on a server Dutchman, who came to have 70 000 members.

The site in question, used by the members to hold meetings of a sexual nature with children, is already disabled.
